

ECM scientific project

The scientific project of ECM is to develop research programs with an international dimension, particularly comparisons between countries, practices and systems in the field of management. For the period 2016-2020, particular attention will be paid to the issue of transitions in management. Through the prism of transition, three research subjects will be studied in detail: